To Whom It May Concern:

It is with great pleasure I write this letter to you in recommendation of J.J. Penfield. Last year, she was assigned to fill in for the first grade teacher next door to me on maternity leave. We quickly and easily became co-workers and friends. She is so full of energy, creativity and enthusiasm. The students just loved her!

Currently, we are both teaching second grade together. She brought that same energy and enthusiasm with her. J.J. cares deeply about each student and their progress in the classroom. She is the kind of teacher you would want your own children to have. She is great with technology and is very innovative in meeting the curriculum standards. She is a team player, easy going and is always willing to share or help out.

As you are well aware, not everyone can be an effective teacher or experiences teaching as a passion not a job position. However, J.J. Penfield does possess those qualities and more. She will make a great addition to any teaching staff. I highly recommend her.

Best Regards,
